

ALEXANDRIA, VA.
FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 16

The disrespectful treatment shown Senator Martin in Norfolk a few nights ago is not calculated to make heroes out of those engaged in it. Nor will it in any way lessen the esteem in which the senator is held by the large majority of Virginians and by the many outside of the Old Dominion. Men who occupy exalted positions in the political world are, more or less, subject to the onslaughts of the thoughtless. It has ever been thus, and without going into the mazes of history, many cases could be cited in the annals of our own country where the best men have passed through ordeals similar to that experienced by the Virginia senator in Norfolk. Henry A. Wise attempted to speak in the city of Washington during the know nothing excitement many years ago, but was howled down by a mob, while Andrew Jackson and Andrew Johnson were nearly mobbed on certain occasions. But it should ever be remembered that the persons who engage in such reprehensible conduct are not always representative citizens of the commonwealths in which they make themselves conspicuous. Senator Martin may have made a mistake in attending the meeting in Norfolk where people were aroused over the Young-Mainard affair. But without ruling on that question, the treatment accorded him was uncalled for, to say the least, and those who engaged in the marks of disrespect may have reason to regret their action when their blood shall have cooled.

A CALL for more money to build the Panama canal may soon be expected, judging from the following dispatch sent out from Washington, which may regard as a feeler:

The Panama Canal is expected to earn at least 5 per cent on an estimated investment of $500,000,000, according to an official of the Department of Commerce and Labor. This computation is based on the conspicuous revival of trade for the eastern part of China and the Indies which has been especially marked for the last 18 months. All traffic now passes by way of the sea canal. It is stated that the waterway of the Red sea earned slightly less than $25,000,000 last year. This is about 11 per cent on the investment.

When the canal project was first considered $200,000,000, it was deemed, it would complete it, but now $500,000,000 is the talk. Had it been known that this vast sum would be required for the canal it never would have been started.

The election in Maine on Monday last brings the following reminiscence from the Spirit of Jefferson, of Charlestown, W. Va.:

The last hope among democrats of electing their presidential ticket in 1840 was dispelled by the September election in Maine that year. When the news came that the whigs had carried the Maine state election whigs all over the land were singing at every political meeting.

"Maine's gone hell-bent
For Governor Kent,
Tippecanoe,
And Tyler too.
And as Maine goes, so goes the Union."

The election in the Pine Tree state was significant then of the defeat of the party in power. Will it be less so now.

The recent refusal of Mr. Roosevelt to sit at the table with Senator Loimer is bringing upon him criticism from all quarters. The Philadelphia Record says:

There is in Colonel Roosevelt a nicety of taste and judgment in the choice of political associates that is peculiar to himself. While he declined to dine with Lorimer in Chicago, he shook the polluted hand of Boss Cox, of Cincinnati, with Jefferson and hob-nobbed in Denver with Guggenheim, the copper captain, who was made United States senator by his avowed contributions of money to republican candidates for the Colorado legislature.

The question of enlarging the army will, it is said, be fought out to a finish at the coming session of Congress and the advocates of the plan will be prepared with arguments to press the issue to a decision. The basis of the fight will be the report of the general staff in response to the resolution introduced by Representative McClachlin, of California, calling for a statement of the preparedness of the country for war, particularly on the Pacific coast. In a general way the report will show that the defensive position of the country is extremely weak, especially on the Pacific coast. The increase in the army will be favored by the jingoes and by those "patriots" who wish to furnish supplies to the government—for a consideration.

Mrs. Charlotte M. West, a veteran missionary under the American Board in Asia Minor, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry B. Loveland, near West Falls, N. Y. Mrs. West went with her husband, Dr. Henry S. West, to Sivas, Turkey, in 1858.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Correspondence of Alexandria Gazette)

The pay of the army for the fiscal year ended June, 1910, was $45,682,948. According to the report of Paymaster Gen. Chas. H. Whittle to the secretary of war made public today. This does not include payment for incidental expenses such as mileage to offices and for encampment, maneuvers nor for West Point and the Army War College. Pay on account of the Military Academy amounted to $558,458 for the year. Thrift on the part of the soldiers is indicated in a steady increase in the deposits with the paymaster during the last four years. During the past year 66,423 deposits were made, amounting to $1,879,465, a marked increase over the deposits of the preceding year.

With the federal authorities investigating the so-called milk trust here, the retail dealers today called a meeting to be held tonight to protest against the action of milk producers in putting the prices up to 24 cents a gallon, 2 cents above the unprecedented price of last winter. Retail dealers declare that they will have to charge ten cents per quart. U. S. Attorney Wilson said today that his men had made an investigation and that he was preparing to take action against the milk combine.

Michael F. Mangab, assistant United States attorney for the District, has resigned to resume private practice. Ten experts in various military branches were detailed by the War Department today to deliver addresses at the twelfth annual convention of the National Guard Association of the United States to be held at St. Louis beginning October 3. The National Guard convention will be of more than ordinary interest and importance as it is proposed to take up this question of legislation for the National Guard and possible measures looking to co-operation with the War Department in matters pertaining to the regular army.

An entire reorganization of the permanent plans for the defense of the United States will be presented at the forthcoming session of Congress according to the scheme under consideration today by the general staff at the direction of Maj. Gen. Wood. The report of Inspector General Garlinghouse, accentuating the alarming lack of officers, presented but one phase of the situation with regard to the weakness of the military defense of the country. Startling disclosures, especially with reference to the vulnerability of the Pacific coast to foreign attack, will be made to Congress, in response to the resolution of Congressman McLachlin. Gen. Wood is in harmony with the inspector general regarding the lack of the high rank officers. The general staff now has under consideration a plan not only for making the National guard more effective as a part of the defensive forces of the country but also for creating a reserve of the men who have had the benefit of training in the regular army and have been honorably discharged. With the National guard and the reserves it is expected that in a few years there will be a trained army of several hundred thousand men which can be promptly mobilized.

An order to the national bank examiner as issued today by the Comptroller of the Currency Murray directs that hereafter there shall be thorough investigation of applications for charters for new national banks. The examiners are to investigate the officers and stockholders and to examine into the resources of the proposed bank.

The President's Alleged Statement.
New York, Sept. 16.—In confirmation of the United Press's exclusive story of yesterday, relative to President Taft's inclination to step aside in 1912—the New York Times in its leading article, page one, today prints the following special from its own correspondent at that of the summer capital:

"Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15.—I am not thinking about 1912; in fact I don't know that I care for a renomination. From the way things are drifting, it may be that no republican can be elected, save possibly one."

"From a trustworthy source, the Times's correspondent learns that this was the statement President Taft made several weeks ago to a friend with whom he was discussing the political outlook for 1912. From an entirely different source, the correspondent is informed that President Taft made substantially the same remark to another friend. These statements have been repeated among the intimate associates of the president until they are almost common property, and for this reason additional weight is given to a dispatch sent out from here today by the United Press."

"A pretty positive statement that the president would not be a candidate for another term was current in Beverly today. It had no official foundation, but aroused much interest because of political conditions at the present time."

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 16.—Desperate, though ineffectual, efforts were made by correspondents here who were beaten on the story to get from either President Taft or Secretary Norton a denial of the facts set out in the United Press story of yesterday relative to the disinclination of the president to make a fight for a second term.

When these efforts were unavailing, certain of the correspondents sent out stories that the United Press article had not been authorized at the summer capital—a fact which was clearly stated in the original story. No one of them, however, questioned the truth of the article.

CALIFORNIA POWERS NOMINATED.

After the most bitter and vituperative campaign ever had in Kentucky, Caleb Powers, who was tried three times for complicity in the murder of Gov. William Goebel, on the streets of Frankfort, January 29, 1900, was yesterday nominated for Congress by the republicans of the Eleventh Congressional district by a majority estimated at more than 5,000 over the Hon. Don C. Edwards, the incumbent.

While disorder was expected in many of the mountain precincts, only one killing took place on election day. The lone fatality occurred at Grapevine, near Hazard, Perry county, a wild mountain region. Squire Colwell shot and killed John Holmes in an argument over the casting of his ballot.

Returns from all parts of the district show that Powers carried every county with two or three exceptions.

Death Caused by Poison.

London, Sept. 16.—The person believed to have been Mrs. Belle Elmore Crippen met death through the administering of a dose of hyoscin.

This dose, somewhat more than the amount required to produce death, was near enough to the exact amount required for fatal results, to indicate expert judgment in preparing the dose."

This was the testimony today of Dr. W. H. Wilcox, analyst for the Home office, and was the first definite statement of the cause of death yet brought out at the hearing of Dr. H. H. Crippen, supposed wife murderer.

Under questions from Travers Humphreys, representing the crown, Wilcox said the poison was administered through the mouth, rather than by injection, and that the amount taken barely exceeded half a grain.

"I do not find any other cause of death except this poison," Wilcox said. "I am satisfied that death followed within an hour of the administering of the dose."

Wilcox examined five jars of the body found under the cellar floor of Dr. Crippen's home in which he discovered approximately 2-7 of a grain of hyoscin.

The whole amount of the poison used, he declared, undoubtedly exceeded half a grain.

Regardless of the weakness of the prosecution's case up to date, it is conceded that Crippen will be bound over to the grand jury and that in all probability he will be indicted.

Mr. Roosevelt.

New York, Sept. 16.—Roosevelt motored in from Oyster Bay today to resume his duties as "contributing editor," and to line up his followers for the New York state fight.

He refused emphatically to discuss the story from Beverly that President Taft is not to oppose him if he desires to annex republican presidential nomination in 1912.

"There will be many of those statements, many of those stories, and many attacks made upon me in the future," he said. "I do not propose to discuss any of them."

He wants to split the Kings county delegation and get it away from State Chairman Woodruff, and his friends say he is very confident that he will be able to do so.

Roosevelt stated he would attend a dinner at the New York Press Club tonight, and will go to Syracuse tomorrow, leaving this city at 7:45. "I expect to make a speech there tomorrow," he said, "and it is not inconceivable that I will have a few political conferences while there."

Unidentified Twin.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—So closely did Frank and George Elliott, twins resemble each other that the body of one of them, a suicide, is lying at the morgue, with relatives unable to say which of the brothers it is. Elliott killed himself on Wednesday by jumping in front of a train at the Noble street wharf on the Delaware river.

When the body was taken to the morgue, Mrs. William Boyd, a sister, was summoned. She identified it as that of her brother, but said that she could not say positively whether it was Frank or George. Other relatives were also unsuccessful in making positive identification. Last night a message was sent to Mrs. Boyd's father, at Atlantic City, and he will arrive today to try to determine which of his sons is dead.

Blackbirds Attack Baker.

Chester, Pa., Sept. 16.—When Thomas Wilson, driver of a Philadelphia bakery wagon, stopped to water his horses, en route to this city yesterday morning, he was attacked by a swarm of hundreds of blackbirds, which flew upon him, pecking at his hair and eyes and making a general onslaught on his cargo of bread.

The attack, he says, took place after Wilson had reached Prospect Park. He used the butt of his whip to fight off the birds, killing and crippling a score of them. A dozen or more of the blackbirds were taken from the wagon after it reached Chester. Wilson thinks the birds were prompted by hunger.

Widow Located.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Bertha Davenport, widow of Benjamin R. Davenport, who committed suicide by poisoning himself in a local hotel yesterday, has been located at her parents' home at Lancaster, N. Y., near here. It was learned today that the dead man was a son of a very old family in Savannah. He came to Lancaster in 1887, where he married Bertha Knocher. The family moved to Cleveland in 1894, going thence to Philadelphia, where they have since resided. The motive assigned for his self-destruction is despondency.

No Platonic Friendship.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 16.—Silk hose and lingerie is not evidence of platonic friendship, when given by a married man to a married woman, not his wife. This bit of Solomonian wisdom, proclaimed from the bench by Judge Bloodworth, is being sadly considered today by Mrs. James E. Dodson, whose platonic friendship defense to a divorce suit of her husband failed, when the judge learned that early, a prominent business man, had showered the young wife with such gifts.

Raising the Maine.

New York, Sept. 16.—After twelve years, work has been begun to raise the battleship Maine from the mud of the Havana, Cuba, harbor according to advices received by Col. W. M. Black, of the Maine Commission. Captain Harley B. Ferguson and a force of men began the initial steps.

The Nomination of Wilson.

New York, Sept. 16.—Behind the nomination in Trenton, N. J., yesterday of Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, as the democratic candidate for governor, is said to have been the most desperate struggle for control of the democratic party since the "gum shoe" campaign that ended in the nomination of Alton B. Parker in 1904.

Wilson was nominated as the result of a lengthy series of conferences of eastern democrats who desire to snatch the reins of the national organization from the radical element that has been in control since 1896. The old gold democratic organization, and the Cleveland democracy, so called, and many powerful business organizations, are behind the Wilson candidacy, and if he is elected governor—and politicians give him more than an even chance—he will be used to sidetrack the Gaylor-Harmon, Marshall and Hoke Smith booms, according to the best informed politicians in this city.

That William J. Bryan realizes the Wilson candidacy is to be used to shake off his grip on the party, if recognized by politicians here today. They point to his "boost" of Hoke Smith, of Georgia, in the Commoner, out today, in which he identifies Smith as "pro-identical" and says he is the "southern man the big corporations clamored for in opposition to his (Bryan's) candidacy in 1900 and 1908."

But Smith is out of it, Bryan continues, because he is on record as saying the great corporations of Georgia must keep out of politics. They must not be allowed hired politicians' agents to dominate or control legislation or administration.

Conditions in Spain.
Madrid, Sept. 16.—Dispatches today from Bilbao say that heavy casualties have taken place there in a clash between the strikers and troops. No details of the fighting are available owing to censorship. Miners in the Bilbao district have been on strike for several weeks, and there are 3,000 troops in the district.

Fearing that a too vigorous course in suppressing agitation by the clerical leaders might precipitate hostilities, Premier Canalejas today gave permission for the proposed pro-church demonstrations on October 2, the only condition being that the demonstrators do not harm themselves. Canalejas's action is believed to be an evidence of his confidence in popular support of the government in its clash with the Vatican.

Barcelona, Sept. 16.—Another attempt to launch a general strike throughout Spain will be made Sunday at a mass meeting of laboring people, the call for which was issued today. Two general strikes have been called already, but both proved abortive.

Children Burned.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 16.—Emil Vranian, proprietor of a confectionery store, returned home in Broad streets, today to find his 14-month old baby, Henry, fatally burned, his three year daughter Ethel scorched for life, and Lottie Weber, the negro nurse, left with the children, so badly burned she cannot recover. The fire, which caused a monetary loss of only $25, was the result of an attempt on the part of the nurse to heat milk for the baby. The oil lamp exploded, causing her dress to become ignited. Firemen attracted by smoke extinguished the conflagration, but the nurse and the baby were fatally burned. The three year old Ethel was terribly burned in her efforts to drag her baby brother from the burning bed, but will recover.

White Slave Traffic.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 16.—In compliance with the act of the recent congress designed to end the "white slave" traffic, the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company has issued orders to its passenger train conductors forbidding them to accept prepaid tickets offered under suspicious circumstances. The conductors are also ordered to prevent the checking of baggage where the check is given to parties other than those using the tickets and are warned to frustrate the numerous tricks of travel, a list of which is set forth in the orders, which are practiced "by the white slaves."

Speaker Cannon carried every county in the Eighteenth district. Two years ago the speaker was unopposed, so a comparison of his plurality yesterday with the previous election is valueless.

THE RECHABITES.

The fifty-eighth annual session of the High Tent of Rechabites of North America closed at Fredericksburg yesterday with the selection of Washington as the place of meeting next September, and the election of the following officers: Past high chief ruler, W. C. Lenz; high chief ruler, Charles Williams; deputy high chief ruler, J. C. Eller; secretary, James H. Dony; treasurer, Mrs. Lola V. Marks; chaplain, Mrs. Alice Lithgow; levite, Mrs. Maggie J. McLean; guard, Mrs. Agnes Drake. All of these officers are from Washington except Miss McLean, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Drake, of Fredericksburg. John R. Mahoney was elected delegate and John C. Moore alternate to attend the session of the International High Movable Conference to be held in England next summer.

Arrest of Alleged Train Robbers.
Mobile, Ala., Sept. 16.—Charged with being train robbers, Emile Merle and Gus Tousselle were brought here by detectives today. It is alleged that they are the men who held up a light engine on the L. and N. railroad, mistaking it for the New Orleans-New York fast mail, and escaped after an exciting running fight with the engine crew. It is also alleged that the men, who were operating launches at Bayou Sara, were selling blind tiger whiskey when arrested. L. and N. detectives said they expected to make more arrests soon.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gently stimulate the liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

DIED.

At the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. H. R. Burke, Braddock Road, Alexandria county, September 16, at 5:45 p. m., Mrs. MARY GOODE GORDON TRIST, widow of Nicholas Browne Trist, of New Orleans, La., in the 67th year of her age. (New Orleans papers please copy.)

VIRGINIA NEWS.

During a severe electrical storm in the lower part of Culpeper county Wednesday evening the driver of the team of Eugene Willis was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Rev. Roberts Coles, of Pennsylvania, has accepted the call recently extended him to St. Paul's church, Hamilton. Mr. Coles is a Virginian, and a graduate of the Seabury Divinity school at Fairfield, Minnesota.

Rev. H. S. Osburn, of Loudoun county, has been called to St. Anne's parish, Essex county, to succeed the Rev. Thomas D. Lewis, who recently accepted a call to the Diocese of Washington. Mr. Osburn is a graduate of the Virginia Seminary of the class of 1910.

Apple growers of Roanoke county were announced their intention of appealing to the courts for redress against the action of the county assessors, who have raised the assessed valuation of bearing orchards from 500 to 800 per cent.

Declaring she would rather die than go to jail, Jessie Kellam, an attractive girl, endeavored to drink a bottle of laudanum when she was with Charles Spruill and Lottie Gardner, were arrested for "joy riding" in a buggy at top speed in Richmond yesterday. Officer Balton snatched the bottle away from the would-be suicide.

Within a few moments after having stepped from the P. & O. R. R. train at Tindler's station Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. William Lumsden, of Orange county, who had appeared in perfect health while a passenger, suddenly fell to the ground and died before medical attention could reach her.

All was quiet on the James River oyster grounds yesterday when the season for tonging on the pupple rocks opened. Hundreds of small craft went up to the river in the morning and began work, but as far as can be learned none of the planters had stakes disturbed. It is generally understood that no move will be made on the part of the tongers before September 20 at least.

J. H. Arnold, a traveling evangelist of the holiness cult, is under arrest in Pulaski, charged with having attacked Elizabeth Collins, a pretty 14-year-old girl of Bristol, whom he abducted a week ago, according to a statement made by the mother to the Bristol police, who located the pair in Pulaski. Physicians confirm the girl's story. Under Virginia law if a case is made against Arnold, he will be subject to the death penalty. Arnold, who is 40 years old, preached fervently on Bristol's streets before leaving with the girl.

Rev. John M. Meredith has been requested by the vestry of Old Aquia Church, Stafford county, to hold service until a regular pastor can be called. Mr. Meredith has been for a long time rector of that church, but it has been some years since he has done any regular preaching. Rev. E. B. Burrell, who was the last rector, resigned a few months ago to accept a church in Fauquier county. Aquia church is one of the oldest colonial Episcopal churches in Virginia, which has retained its original style.

THE ILLINOIS PRIMARIES.

Incomplete returns at midnight last night indicate that the men who voted for William Lorimer for senator in the general assembly, both republican and democratic, gained a sweeping victory in yesterday's primaries all over Illinois.

There have been a few changes, Deane gaining two or three men in Cook county and losing an equal number of his candidates. Even the men who were drawn into the "jackpot" investigation have been renominated by overwhelming majorities, except in perhaps two instances. Congressman Boutwell was defeated for renomination. Many won out handily, and those pulled through by a scant majority.

Return from out in the state are coming in slowly, but the indications are that with a few exceptions the Lorimer men have been renominated by increased pluralities.

Speaker Cannon carried every county in the Eighteenth district. Two years ago the speaker was unopposed, so a comparison of his plurality yesterday with the previous election is valueless.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The death penalty will be abolished by Spain.

As anticipated, Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, was nominated for governor by the democrats of New Jersey yesterday.

James Gray has been named to fill the vacancy at the head of the Minnesota democratic ticket in place of John Land who refused to make the race.

Privates John Lumpkin and L. Bates, negro deserters from troop M Ninth cavalry, were arrested yesterday, charged with having robbed the army safe at Pole Mountain maneuver camp, Wyoming, August 9, of $6,500. All but a few dollars has been recovered.

The balance of trade, which has generally shown in the statistics of the last 30 years as being largely in favor of this country, has turned over. It now stands a million dollars on the other side of the ledger for the first eight months of this calendar year.

From his cell in the New York prison yesterday, Adolph Rothbarth, the hop merchant who was able to borrow $300,000 from several of the most prominent banks in New York on his own personal notes, sent an urgent appeal to District Attorney Whitman to hurry the prosecution so that he may begin serving his sentence.

Rear Admiral Francis W. Dickens, who during the Spanish-American war had much to do with planning the successful naval campaign in his capacity as assistant chief of the bureau of navigation, died in New York yesterday. Rear Admiral Dickens was born in Beekmanville, N. Y., November 2, 1844, and entered the naval academy as an acting midshipman September 20 1861.

Arthur Hammerstein, general manager of the Manhattan Opera House, was married on Wednesday to Mrs. John A. Hoagland at the home of E. Butterick Root, a nephew of Senator Elihu Root, in Greenwich, Conn. Mrs. Hammerstein was formerly the wife of John A. Hoagland, a wealthy baking powder manufacturer of this city, but was divorced last Friday. She was born Grace Weir, of Hartford, Conn. Mr. Hammerstein's first wife obtained a divorce at Reno on April 18.
